Dr. Uhler stated :

That on the night of the 10th inst., about 11½ o'clock, he was startled in his residence at Manayunk, by a heavy rumbling noise, and shaking of the house and furniture, and rattling of the windows; the sound resembled that of a heavy wagon drawn over hard frozen ground. In the course of four or five seconds, the noise and trembling were repeated. Dr. U. raised the window immediately, but found everything perfectly quiet; there was no wind, and he attributed the noise to an earthquake.

The sound appeared to come from the north east, and then returned; the whole duration was probably twenty seconds. He had no means of determining the amount or direction of the oscillation.
